ANNE PISATURO, CPA

Partner

Anne Pisaturo is a Partner in Sansiveri's Tax Department, where she brings decades of experience delivering thoughtful, strategic guidance to clients navigating complex tax and business matters. Since joining the firm in 1988, Anne has become a trusted advisor to high-net-worth individuals, multigenerational family groups, and real estate entities, providing tailored consulting and compliance services that align with their long-term financial goals.

Anne is known for her proactive approach, deep technical knowledge, and long-standing client relationships. Her work often includes advising families on wealth preservation strategies and guiding clients through the intricacies of real estate tax planning. Internally, she plays a key leadership role in the Tax Department, contributing to firm initiatives and mentoring the next generation of professionals.

Outside of work, Anne enjoys cooking, traveling, and spending quality time with family and friends. A lifelong resident of Cranston, RI, she lives there with her husband, Frank, and their dog, Maddie. Anne has two sons, Michael and Matthew.
